

Wally Byam and Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. used one of the most famous Airstreams of all times, in 1948.

While they were in Rapello, Italy they were robbed and the Airstream's door damage.

Wally and Neil teamed up to write a message on the door of their Airstream. Look at the pictures and follow the script.

This is the door text.

You can see Wally's humor in adding the word "grub." He used this word in buying food, cooking or having dinner in his Airstream or going out to a five star restaurant.
