RV club seeking fun, members

Topaz RVer Ann Hersey of the Sierra Nevada Unit of the Wally Byam Caravan Club International wrote me a letter seeking some ink for their recreational vehicle club.

Ann's the treasurer of the club, which consists of about 10 active members, according to President Diane Liepper of Reno.

My first question? Who's Wally Byam?

"He is the founder of the club and originator of the Airstream travel trailer," Diane said.

"In my particular case, I'm a third generation Airstreamer."

Diane said her grandparents traveled with Wally Byam in the 1950s.

"So I'm pretty familiar with the organization,"
she said.

The Sierra Nevada
Unit has been in existence since the 1970s, according to Diane.

"Right now our active paid members
number 10 or so, with about 20 on the mailing list," she said. "We are in the process of reorganization."

The group starts its season in April with a camp-out at Pyramid Lake's Pelican Point and then it's off to Dayton State Park in May.

"We're a real flexible unit, anybody is welcome to join us," she said.

Well, not anyone.

"Having an Airstream trailer is a criteria
for actual membership," she said. "People with other trailers are welcome to come along, but the club is restricted to Airstream
owners."

Anyone interested should visit the club's Web site at www.wbcci.org or www.sier-ranevadaairstreams.org. Diane said anyone who would like to call her is welcome to do so at 972-9292
