Lamb Day Rally

View from Burns Brothers Campground

Day One

We sure had an exciting time at the Lamb Day Rally last week. A wildfire that had just started as the Niemann's were heading up Nephi Canyon presented some quick decisions. No emergency people had arrived on the scene. Drive through or stop and attempt to turn around a 34 foot Airstream? A few vehicles coming from the opposite direction said they could make it, so they went for it. Driving through with fire on both sides of the road was a little intense knowing they had two bombs onboard. (propane tanks) . You could feel the heat right through the windows. The Hansen's and the Glenn's traveling just minutes behind them were turned back. Thus resulting in a long detour of an additional 80 miles. Luckily everyone arrived safely just in time to enjoy some great conversation and hot dogs, beans and fresh corn. We watched the fire grow and then lost power to the campground, which in turn also lost our water because they are on well water. Surprisingly the power was restored within a few hours.

Day Two

Friday morning the men got up early and cooked a great Dutch Oven breakfast complete with biscuits and gravy, bacon, scrambled eggs and cheese potatoes.

Everyone spent the day relaxing and doing whatever they wanted to.

We all enjoyed a wonderful pot luck dinner prepared by the ladies, some of the women made posters to be used in the parade Saturday morning. Geniel came to the rescue providing various supplies to complete the job.

Day Three

Saturday morning four shiny units in various sizes headed towards Fountain Green to participate in the parade. The Nix's in their Bambi, followed by the Glenn's, then the Hansen's and finally the Niemann's Mother Ship, aka Mudrshp. It was a great experience and everyone had fun.

Some tried the chuck wagon breakfast and spent the day at the park and others took in some scenic drives in the area. A few were lucky enough to get a lamb sandwich before they ran out.

Saturday night we played two challenging word games, a crossword and a word search pertaining to our Rally. The Glenn's and the Nix's cleaned up and won most of the prizes. Guess we'll have to make next years a little more difficult?

We continued to keep an eye to the sky on the fire, that was approaching the town of Fountain Green, ready to pull out if necessary. We had a fantastic view of it and also the fireworks later that night. A much needed rain shower came through and has helped dampen the fire's spirit.

Day Four

We enjoyed a continental breakfast and juice before we started home. A nice story was read by Ken and a prayer given by Lewis Woods. We had a couple of past members join us, Lewis and Helen Woods and also Lavone Evans and her son Larry. Everyone seemed to have a great time, in spite of the fire.
